We think it is important that our customers and students can easily reach us by public transport and by car. This allows them to choose for themselves which mode of they prefer. At the same time, we see that more and more clients are encouraging their participants to travel by public transport. Given the traffic congestion, loss of time and CO2 emissions in cars, we understand that. We ourselves also like a good balance between people, planet and profit. But of course you can choose. And whatever you choose, you are always on your way to BCN.
